

MARIJA DJUKIC graduated and holds a Master degree (MSc) at the Faculty of Music in Belgrade, where she studied with professor Srdjan Grbić. She took master courses in Tours, France with professor Alexey Nasedkin and in Sion, Switzerland, with professor Bernhardt Ebert. She spent two years specializing in Saint Petersburg, Russia, at the State Conservatory Rimsky-Korsakov, with professor Ekaterina Murina.

She is a full time professor at the Piano department at the Faculty of Music in Belgrade.

Marija performed as a soloist and a chamber musician in Belgrade, across Serbia, Montenegro, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Russia, Switzerland, Italy, Greece and Turkey. Her repertoire mainly features classical and romantic pieces. She is particularly fond of works of Frederic Chopin. She performed one of the most significant and successful Chopin concerts at the Kolarac concert hall in 2010, celebrating 200th anniversary of composer's birth. The concert was under the patronage of the Embassy of the Republic of Poland.

She performed in various chamber ensembles, in duets with singers, flautists, violinists, and in trios Amorosso and Classica Aeterna. She played at the Composers Forum and the International Harp Festival. She also did recordings for Radio Beograd. As a soloist, she collaborated with Belgrade Philharmonic Orchestra, RTS Symphonic Orchestra, Army Orchestra and Belgrade String Orchestra "Dušan Skovran".
